THIRD VOTE COUNT COMPLETE

Bearden Crosses Swords With John Wilson on Stump

Sheriff Campaign
Warms Up As Men
Discuss Dry Law

Bearden Assails Wilson For 32 Years in Local Office

JIM IS CRITICIZED

Wilson Makes Thrust at Bearden's Record—Joe
Reed Meets Cannon

Guernsey, Fulton Next Candidates on the Hempstead county stump tour will speak at Guernsey Friday morning and afternoon, concluding the first week of campaigning.

After resting Saturday and Sunday the speakers will go to Fulton Monday morning, where they will appear evening and afternoon.
Next Tuesday they speak at Saratoga.

Jim Bearden, former sheriff, and L. Wilson, county judge, who is running for sheriff, crossed swords in the sheriff's race when they met at Spring Hill this morning on the third day of the county stump tour.

Bearden said that "John Wilson, 23 years of public service is all he is entitled to from the voters of Hemp-stead county. Granted that he was the best county judge in history, and the best clerk in history before that, still it is time that public office was being passed around to somebody else."

Bearden attacked Wilson for what he said was a luke-warm statement with regard to prohibition enforcement. "I am here," said Bearden, "to pledge you the enforcement of not only the prohibition law but all laws."

This drew fire from Judge Wilson who, upon being introduced by the chairman of the meeting, Fred Brent, of Spring Hill, declared:

"Word has gone out from certain quarters that if I am elected sheriff I won't do any field work unless the citizens bring me sworn information.
This report is wrong.

"I expect to make such searches as are required by law. If word is brought to me that there is liquor in a certain place I may not break my neck getting there, but I'll go or see that some other officer is sent."

Wilson, on Raliding
"But when it comes to raiding private homes," continued Wilson, "that is another matter. If conditions warrant it in my opinion I may take it on myself to procure information for the sheriff's office; but if you personally demand that I will have to ask you to swear out the information.
That is your duty under the law as a private citizen charged jointly with the officers in seeing that it is enforced."

Wilson declared, "Jim Bearden was a pretty nice young fellow until he got mixed up with snitches and undercover men. I think a snitch who betrays the confidence of a man he has done business with is lower even than the bootlegger who sells the liquor to him."

The judge hammered a statement by Bearden that he (Bearden) had led a model life in recent years, particularly with regard to liquor. "To hear this when there are so few men who attain maturity without ever taking a single drink that they can be counted on the fingers of your hands in any community."

Reed Flays Cannon
In the representative's race, where 11 candidates followed the sheriffs on the stump at Spring Hill this morning, Joe Reed resumed his castigation of Curtis Cannon, who is seeking re-election.

"Cannon is right about not voting against the income tax." When the time came for a showdown, he ran out—although that is the measure he now claims to have supported.

"Furthermore, when bill No. 73 came up in the 1929 legislature to reduce the taxes on farmhands, Cannon voted 'No.'"

Reed went on to say that in his own platform he favored a graduated land tax.

He drew laughter from the crowd when he mentioned the fact that he is a bachelor. "That is the only thing the other candidates have on me," he

Kiwanis To Enter Float In Festival

Club to Co-Operate With Others in Parade Entry

Misses Iva Hipp and Katherine Briant entertained Hope Kiwanians at their regular luncheon at the Barlow Hotel Thursday noon. Miss Hipp sang two lovely songs, accompanied at the piano by Miss Briant.

Plans were completed for a co-operative float to be built by the Business & Professional Women's Club, the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, to be entered in the parade at the Watermelon Festival. Hubert Lindsey rep-members of the club to put their shoulders to the wheel in making this the greatest of all Watermelon Festiweeks," said Mr. Cox, "until the Festival day will arrive. If each citizen of Hope will help to boost this attraction, and will respond with personal service, when called upon, this can be the biggest festival of them all bringing new laurels to Hope."

Father Blamed As Blast Kills Two

Fires Blast of Dynamite After He and Wife Quarrel

BARNESBORO, Pa., July 24.—(AP)— Two children were killed and their mother injured early Wednesday by an explosion of dynamite believed set by the father of the family.

The explosion demolished the front of the home in which Mrs. K. Terry Langham and her four children were living at Ensign Run, near here, after separating from Langham. Two of the children escaped injury. Those killed were a boy, one year old, and a girl five years old.

Police search for Langham was instituted after officers were told of differences he had had with his wife, and that he had been seen near the home shortly before the explosion.

Hot Springs Road Closed To Traffic

Glenwood-Hot Springs Route Closed For Construction

LITTLE ROCK, July 24.—(AP)—The state highway department announced Wednesday that Highway No. 70 has been closed to traffic between Hot Springs and Glenwood because of construction work. Traffic to the South-and then follow Highway No. 67 through Hope to Texarkana. Traffic to DeQueen or Mena and points in Oklahoma may follow Highway No. 6

Still Not Available To Public

NAPLES, Italy, July 24.—(AP)—Government officials today fear that the death toll in the earthquake of yesterday will be more than 1778. All means of communication are down and a complete list is not available.
Graveyards in some of the towns have been completely filled and bodies are being taken to other towns to be buried.

Canner's Bill Now Is In Operation

New Amendment Required Labels Showing Food Content of Can

WASHINGTON, July 24.—(UP)— Packers of canned goods must meet new requirements under the bill known as the "Canner's Bill," recently signed by the President as an amendment to the Federal Food and Drug act. This amendment states that all canned goods—except meat and meat products and canned milk falling below the standards published by the Department of Agriculture, must be labeled appropriately so that the housewife will be safe in her purchase of this commodity.

W. G. Campbell, chief of the department's food and administration says the new bill will give the buyer a choice between two classes of canned foods, those of a higher quality and those of slightly below standard level that have been marked accordingly so that the buyer will have full knowledge of the character and purity of the article.

The amendment becomes effective immediately and the Food and Drug administration will begin at once formulation of the tentative standards of quality, condition, and fill of container for the more common food products.

Superintendents of County Schools Attend Convention

State Superintendent
Hirst Speaks Before Meeting

PROGRESS REVIEWED

First Time in History of State Eight Months
School Held

FAYETTEVILLE, July 24.—(AP)— Cautious consolidation under a system of economical administration of funds, both state and local, was urged as the only solution of the state's educational program by Claud M.
Hirst, state superintendent of public instruction, before county school superintendents in their annual meeting here today.

In an address tracing the growth of the state's school system, particularly in the past year, Hirst praised the results that have been accomplished by the Equalizing Fund, and the Revolving Loan funds, in bringing about the elimination of school districts through consolidation.

"For the first time in the state's history an eight months' term was provided last year in all communities that were willing to consolidate and make a maximum local effort," he said.

While declaring consolidation to be the only solution of the state's school program, the state superintendent warned his listeners against hasty consolidations without proper planning for the future, and against wastage in the disbursement of funds available for the purpose.

"The next and biggest danger signal that I see is a possibility of defeating the income tax which has been referred to the people," the superintendent said. "Few of our citizens know that they are to vote on the repeal of the income tax in November. The defeat of this tax would blast our hopes for a rural school program in Arkansas."

After praising the co-operation he received from state and county officials, Superintendent Hirst gave a brief review of educational developments in the past several years and then listed what he termed the "big achievements in education" in the state during the year.

"Our educational program is attracting the attention of the whole country," he declared, "and is changing the bad impression made when we were ranked forty-eight among the states in educational advantages offered. This was an unfair ranking, but we must live the reputation down it gave us."

Outlining the growth of educational interest, Hirst said that education in the state received its first big impetus with the adoption of the 12 mill tax

Negro Slayer Is Taken at Gurdon

Two Suspects in Greenwood (La.) Murdér Yesterday Located at Gurdon—One in Jail, Other Is Sought—Rode Through Here on Truck

GURDON, July 24.—(AP)—A negro who gave his name as Sam Jones, 30, identified as one of the two negroes charged with the slaying of C. J.
Mason, merchant of Greenwood, La., at that place yesterday, was placed in the city jail here today. Mayor H.
Nelson of Gurdon told the Associated Press.

A second negro believed to be the other slayer is sought in this vicinity.
The Jones in jail said the second negro's name was Will Jones, though no relation. The negro in jail declared that the other man committed the murder, but officers here said that the prisoner has been identified by radio descriptions broadcast yesterday following the murder. Shreveport and Caddo parish (Louisiana) officers are on their way here today to identify and return the prisoner and attempt to locate his companion.

The Jones negro in jail told officers today that he and his companion left Shreveport on a truck yesterday and rode as far as Prescott, Ark., walking from that point into Gurdon. They approached a local home this morning and asked a woman for food. She became suspicious, recognizing the men from radio reports broadcast last night.

The woman telephoned Gurdon police, and one of the negroes was captured near the city. The Jones in jail is said to be the negro who asked the Greenwood merchant for some cigarettes just before the two negroes shot him to death.

and Sheridan This ator Joe T. Robinson senator and democratic leader in the senate, returned ment of the special session of congress called to ratify the London naval treaty, in which Senator Robinson was a negotiator.

The senator is scheduled to speak at Rison Saturday afternoon, and at Sheridan that night. He will probably start a speaking tour in the northeastern counties next week, although no definite announcement was made today.

Senator Robinson has opposition this campaign for the first time in 2 years He is being opposed by Tom W.
Campbell, Little Rock attorney.

Missourian Admits Extortion Charge

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., July 24.— (AP)—Harry E. Brown, 35, traveling salesman and former Southern Missouri schoolteacher, confessed today that he alone was responsible for an attempt to extort $2,500 each from three local business men, officers announced today.

Brown told officers that he wrote three business men letters demanding that they pay him on threat of death.
He said he was alone in conceiving the plot and attempting to execute it.
He declared he was driven to it by the necessity of providing for his wife and four children.

Derby Flier Hurt As Plane Smashes

Extra Gasoline Said to Have Unbalanced
His Ship

CINCINNATI, O., July 24.—R. A.
Hosler, Detroit, was injured Wednesday as his plane cracked up when he attempted to take off on the Cincinnati-Little Rock leg of the All-American air derby.

Airport men said Hosler placed five gallons of extra gasoline in his cockpit and that this weight evidently threw the plane off balance. The plane careened down the runway and crashed from only a short distance in the air.

Hosler was eliminated from the race.
He was taken to General hospital and was conscious when reached by field attendants.

Hosler held ninth position in total elapsed flying time in the derby.
Hospital nurses said Hosler suffered a possible slight fracture of the spine near the neck.

To Select Queen Early Next Week

Produce Growers Are Exempt From License

LITTLE ROCK, July 24.—(AP)—Attorney General Hal Norwood in an opinion today declared that persons engaged in the growing of truck and other farm produce are not required to take out a peddler's license anywhere in Arkansas.

The attorney general said:
"Arkansas statutes declare that any person may peddle berries, fruit, melons and other produce grown in this state, without paying either state, county or city license; and it is illegal for any community to levy such a tax."

Arkansan Is Still Leading Air Race

Gehlback and "Little Rocket" Arrive First in Houston

HOUSTON, Tex., July 24.—(AP)— Lieutenant Lee Gehlback, flying the Arkansas-built Commander's plane "Little Rocket," was still in the lead when planes of the All-American Air Derby landed here at noon today.

Gehlback flew the 400 miles from Little Rock, Ark., to Houston in 3 hours 1 minute 34 seconds. Stuo Quinby, of Moline, Ill., was second with an elapsed time of 3:30.6, two minutes behind Gehlback.

This gives the Arkansas flier a lead of approximately 25 minutes since the tour started from Detroit last week-end. Gehlback has captured four of the five laps, losing only the jump between New York and Cincinnati. He regained the lead between Cincinnati and the Rock, and came through successfully again today.

LITTLE ROCK, July 24.—(AP)—Lee Gehlback led the eleven planes out of here today on the Little Rock-Houston leg of the All-American Air Derby.
The takeoff was made at 8:06 a. m. and followed at one minute intervals by the other ten planes.

John Kruttschnitt, who fell behind the others at Johnston, Pa., yesterday morning arrived in Little Rock today at 9:18 a. m. He did not get off with the rest. He said he spent last night in Paragould, Ark.

Reports from Shreveport, La., stated that Gehlback arrived there at 10:24 today for gasoline and took off 5 minutes later.

The newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, thus widely circulating advertisements, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide.—Col. R. R. McCormick.

The County Stump Tour

BETWEEN plans for the Fifth Annual Watermelon Festival and the reporting of the county stump tour, the Editor of The Star and his staff have been too busy lately to write much that was of local interest in this column.

But we return afresh from the political speaking at Shover Springs Tuesday, and Patmos Wednesday, with a high regard for this excellent democratic custom of having the candidate meet the voter face to face. It is the fourth county stump tour this writer has "covered" in seven years in Arkansas, and it is always impressive in the manner in which the crowds turn out at each voting precinct as the candidates come around.

In the governor's race two years ago, Hempstead county cast 3,588 votes. With seventeen speaking dates, the local stump tour will bring county and district candidates face to face with several times that number of county residents. This means that the voter will have had a chance to see and hear for himself—and from that verdict there can be no appeal.

The system is particularly satisfying when compared with more distant elections, like that for governor. The majority of the voters don't actually meet the candidates for governor during the campaign. They depend largely upon newspaper accounts of his speeches, advertisements, radio addresses, and the personal work of local political groups.

Against this indirect system of campaigning in the state and national elections, we have the more effective method of the county stump tour. This is an appeal to all the voters of Hempstead county to turn out and hear the candidates as they make their swing around the precincts. The Star has no candidate, no enemy, and no prejudice, in the county and district campaigns. In its news columns it is attempting to give an impartial report of the daily happenings as the candidates meet each other on the stump. The rest of it is for the voters to decide. They know these men, and this week and next are able to hear them give the latest facts and arguments in their campaign for election. Editorial comment upon home candidates fighting for local honors would not only be unfair, but superfluous.

The earnestness of the candidates suggests that we as citizens and voters might take a more sportsmanlike attitude toward those who offer themselves for public office. The most deadly cynicism is that sneering pose assumed in recent years by non-political citizens against those who do get into politics. The cynics ridicule everything from congress to the legislature, but are least interested when voting time comes around. That isn't good citizenship.

Any election is a serious matter. Any man in politics is subject to the same tests of honesty and intelligence that we exact of a respectable citizen in private life. When we get away from either of these facts, the government is in bad shape.

This is an election year—and it is good to remember that whatever uncertainty confronts us in the governorship and other distant campaigns, the county stump tour is right here at home. Some of the men we meet on this local tour will go to Little Rock to sit in the legislature, and, with the men that other counties send there, will be even more powerful than the governor. Good government demands that we give the local candidates our undivided attention this week and next.

Killing Worn-Out Laws

THE town council of Lowestoft, in England, undertook to revise some of the town's out-moded laws the other day, and discovered on the statute books a curious survival of early Victorianism—a law passed in 1854, and never repealed, compelling all male bathers at the city bathing beaches to stay at least 10 yards away from all female bathers.

Cabled dispatches relate that the town fathers had a good laugh at this ancient law, and then promptly repealed it. Henceforth men and women at Lowestoft's bathing beaches can stand face to face without fearing the wrath of the law.

All of this is rather funny, but it does provoke a bit of reflection. For example: what would have happened if it had been an American town that discovered such a law on its books? Would it have repealed the law, or would it have let it remain on the statute books and then winked at all violations of it?

We don't, of course, hang on to laws quite that idiotic. But in general it may be said that it is not our tendency to follow this British lead in handling out of date laws. Our governing bodies almost invariably lack the courage to repeal such ordinances. To do so might offend some group of the populace; consequently we let the laws remain, and then make no pretense of enforcing them.

As a result, we have those queer "blue Sunday" drives ever so often. In countless cities and towns there are laws which forbid everything from playing golf to buying postage stamps on Sunday. Generally these laws are allowed to lie ignored; but once in a while some sheriff or mayor or chief of police conceives it to be his duty to enforce them, and a whole community is inconvenienced and upset—all because the law-makers lack the courage to repeal laws that no longer have public support.

So it is that every state and city has laws that are never enforced. There are horse races in states whose laws strictly bar horse racing. There are Sunday movies in towns where Sunday movies are illegal. We prefer to let laws go unenforced rather than to go to work and repeal them. It is not a healthy attitude.

Woodman, Spare That Tree!

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON.—Congress in the session just closed ditched nearly all important measures sponsored by labor organizations or championed by the Senate's Republican progressives.

The Senate was fairly kind to such measures, but the House, in one way or another, strangled about every one that came along.

Labor and the progressives may take credit for one big victory during the session, but they shouldn't take very much. One refers to the Senate's rejection of the nomination of Judge John J. Parker to be a justice of the U. S. Supreme Court. The American Federation of Labor really started the fight on Parker, but what wicked him was the votes of certain regular Republicans who became frightened by the spectre of a menacing negro vote at the last minute.

Lost Its Whole Program

With more than 20 per cent of union men out of work, labor might have expected to do a little better. But it lost out on legislation dear to its heart—unemployment, anti-injunction and immigration measures.

The House passed one of the three Wagner unemployment bills, the one authorizing the Labor Department to obtain more comprehensive figures on the number of jobless. That was the least important of the three. The one which would have set up a board to plan public works for unemployment emergencies was first emasculated almost completely and then shoved off to a committee room whence it may emerge next year. The third, which would have set up a system of federal and state-controlled employment agencies, was entirely shelved at the request of lobbyists for the National Manufacturers' Association.

The Norris anti-injunction bill, containing in final form a clause forbidding "Yellow Dog" contracts, was reported unfavorably by the Senate Judiciary Committee, although the committee's best lawyers—Boah, Norris and Tom Walsh—supported it. The bill never even came to a vote, indicating that the Parker vote was by no means a defeat of "Yellow Dog" as labor enthusiasts contended at the time.

The Harris bill curtailing immigration of Mexican peons, also strongly supported by labor, was choked off in the House.

The Couzens resolution directing the Interstate Commerce Commission to delay railroad consolidations until Congress could safeguard interests of the public and the employees, was backed by the railroad brotherhoods and passed by the Senate. But a House committee worked out a substitute entirely unsatisfactory to labor and neither that nor the Couzens measure came to a vote in the House.

Los Angeles police arrested a Chicago gangster wanted in connection with the Lingle murder, but finally released him and gave him back his gun. If he'll call around at city hall, he probably can get the keys to the city.

Census figures show that nearly 7,000,000 live in New York City, and now man who has ridden on New York's subways in the rush hour will testify that nine-tenths of them try to ride at the same time.

A British magazine reports that every cell of a woman's prison in England has a mirror in it. The prisoners, you see, are locked up and left to their own reflections.

Nude Vogue in France Attains 4000 Members

PARIS, July 24.—(UP)—The vogue of the nude in France is rapidly approaching the same degree of popularity which the undraped form has found in Germany. France now has 4000 nudists, or naturists, who believe and practice the art of exposing as much of the body as possible to the healing and beneficent rays of the sun. About half of France's nudists are pure nudists and the other are seminudists.

The "pures" believe in almost total nudity, wearing only the merest protective garment. The others believe more in the Greek idea that clothes partially cover the body, but leaves the movements free and expose the fairer portions of the body to the vagaries of draped costume. The islands of the Seine are popular haunts for nudists, while other colonies are at Strasbourg and in the Midi.

Woman Failing to Use Water Is Hit by Speaker

NORWALK, Conn., July 24.—(UP)—Women who substitute the cold cream jar and bottle of gin for the use of water externally and internally were roundly scored by J. J. Quinn, at a recent meeting of physicians, dermatologists and cosmeticians at pinnaud laboratories here.

The chief vice of the modern American woman is that she has gotten so far away from the simple primary things that she is neglecting to realize their necessity he said.

"The old-fashioned family sink is still an unbeatable institution," Quinn declared. "Some women seem to have forgotten that the use of water is the basis of health. When they need cleansing they rush to their cold creams and when they need a drink go to a bottle of gin."

Quinn explained that he has nothing against cold cream. In fact, he's for it, provided it is used with water and not instead of it.

He enumerated six practices which he said the American woman pursues against beauty and health: first, insufficient use of water; second, gullibility in submitting to fake beauticians; third, too much questionable liquor; fourth, poorly regulated diet; fifth, too many worries and sixth, trying to live too quickly.

Not so long ago, Selma Lagerlof, the novelist and first woman to win the Nobel prize, was a school teacher in a small Swedish village. That was when her first story, "Gosta Berling," was published.

True—You wouldn't advise me to marry a liar, would you?

Millie—Yes, dear. I would—unless you want to be an old maid.—Ex.

MacTight—I have nothing but praise for the new minister of our church. O'Malley—So I noticed when the plate was passed around.

live as gently as I can; be, no matter where, a man; make what comes of good or ill; do my best and let that stand; the record of my brain and hand; and then, should failure come to me still work and hope for victory. To leave some simple mark behind; to keep my having lived in mind; to enmity to aught I show. To be an honest, generous foe. To play my little part, nor whine. That greater honors are not mine. This, I believe, is all I need for my philosophy and creed.

One of the most delightful affairs of the season was the Benefit given by the Hope Library association last evening at Hope's Recreation Park on South Main street at Sixth avenue. A crowd of three hundred or more enjoyed the splendid music by the Hope Band, played bridge on the lawn and enjoyed a game or more of golf. Prizes for the evening went to Miss Nannie Jett of Fulton, J. W. Strickland, Miss Mary Hitt of Texarkana and W. Q. Warren. There will be another Benefit at the park this evening. The evening of bridge, golf or conversation can be had for the small sum of 35 cents. The regular price for one game of golf is 25 cents and the benefit offers you an entire evening of golf (if you like) for the sum of 55 cents. The public is cordially invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Smyth left today for a motor trip to Galveston, Houston and other Southern Texas points.

Mrs. Joe Yocom and children of Texarkana are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. McCloughan.

Mrs. K. G. Arnold and baby of Texarkana are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cox.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Russell and Leo Robbins motored to Texarkana today on business pertaining to the Watermelon Festival.

Farm Women Urged To Can Vegetables

Meetings on Canning Are Being Held Over the County

Now is the time to can and preserve those few things on the farms that we have now. Gardens have not lasted so long and have not given as much yield as in former years, but lucky is the family that have already their pantry about full of jars and cans of foods that will tide them over during the season that gardens are impossible to grow.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Lowe of Blevins have just purchased a new pressure cooker and sealer. Last Thursday afternoon, under the direction of the demonstration agent, they canned some of their culls and fryers. Three No. 2 cans hash; three No. 3 cans fried chicken; ten No. 2 cans soup, and seven No. 2 cans stew, were put up at this time. All the canned products are ready to be heated, and served, the soup has rice and giblets, and stew meat can be used as creamed chicken in a la king, salad or sandwiches. While these cans were processing, 12 No. 3 cans of tomatoes were sealed and processed in the wash pot in the back yard. The total valuation of this one afternoon's work was $16.60; and think of the amount of good food to be eaten this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Hudley have as guests at their home at Rocky Mount Mrs. J. N. Thompson and Mrs. C. A. Smith and daughters, Frances and Dorothy of Pine Bluff.

Miss Helen Boyd, who has been the guest of relatives for the past three weeks left yesterday for her home in Corpus Christie, Tex.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jamison left this morning for a few days stay in Hot Springs and Little Rock.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Campbell and Kenneth McKee spent today in Shreveport.

Miss Blanch Campbell spent yesterday visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Campbell en route to point in North Carolina, where she will spend next month.

Mrs. D. M. Finley and son, Foster, left yesterday for Corpus Christie where they will visit Dr. and Mrs. John Sykes.

Among the out of town guests attending the Library Benefit at Hope's Recreation Park last evening were Miss Mary Hitt, I. T. Bell, Jr., Fred Marshall Calvin Marshall and Mrs. Jo Yocom and children of Texarkana, Mrs. J. B. Schultz, Mrs. Jett Orton, Mrs. Will Orton, Miss Nannie Jett, Miss Nora Wilson and Miss Anna Logan of Fulton, Miss Florence Riden of New York and Miss Pattie Seaman of Crossett.

M. M. McCloughan returned yesterday from a few days visit in Memphis.

Friends will be glad to know that Miss Mollie Hatch, who recently underwent a major operation at the Josephine hospital is able to be removed to her home on West Second street for convalescence.

Mr. and Mrs. Sankey Callicott, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Owens and family and Mr. and Mrs. Luther Rogers attended a surprise birthday dinner at Patmos yesterday. The occasion was the celebration of the 76th birthday anniversary of their father, Mr. J. A. Powell of Patmos. The dinner was tendered by his daughters, Mrs. A. N. Rider and Mrs. B. J. Drake at the home of Mrs. Rider. Covers were laid for 22 guests. Guests other than the immediate family were Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Rider and family. Many attractive and useful gifts were received by the honoree.

amendment sponsored by Governor Brough which resulted in the increase of local revenues for school districts from $1,891,334 in 1910 to $5,450,856 in 1920.

"The next step of this kind," Hirst continued, "was made on recommendation of Governor Terrell to the legislature of 1925, when they submitted to the people an amendment to the constitution permitting electors of the districts to vote a maximum of 18 mills instead of 12. This measure has resulted in an increase of local revenue from $6,491,820 in 1926 to $9,000,000 in 1930."

Prize McKee
The superintendent praised the late Governor McKee's efforts in bringing about an increase in the per capita apportionment fund from $1,730,234 in 1922 to $3,636,104 in 1926, or a per capita increase from $2.46 in 1922 to $5.92 in 1926.

"We believe that the most outstanding educational legislation for the benefit of all children is the Equalization Fund law, enacted during the administration of Governor Martineau," the superintendent said.

On account of a "gigantic lobby," however, Hirst declared, the 1927 legislature failed to provide funds for the operation of the Equalization Fund law. Funds were provided by the 1929 legislature, he said.

The superintendent then pointed to the Revolving Loan Fund law, also enacted during the Martineau administration, as another step forward.

Under this law, payment by the state for money borrowed from the permanent school fund to take care of deficits made by different departments of the state since 1899, is provided. A half million dollars has been paid by the state since January 1, 1930, Hirst said.

"No general assembly has ever represented more earnestly and sincerely the interests of rural school children than did the one of 1929," Hirst said.

"It met a strong lobby and rendered a verdict for the children."

From the income tax law and the amending of the cigar and cigarette tax law, Hirst said $823,000 was received that "could properly be spent through the Equalization Fund, during the past year."

"The tobacco tax has increased from $385,078 in 1924-25, to $1,294,162 in 1929-30 and has increased during the past year $183,341," he said.

In calling attention to what he described as achievements of the Equalization fund and the Revolving loan fund, Hirst said that while in 1927 only 36 per cent of the districts voted an 18 mill tax, in 1928, and only 48 per cent, in 1929 following the legislature's provision of revenues for the Equalizing Fund, 62 per cent of the districts representing 80 per cent of the assessed property value of the state voted an 18 mill tax. The number of districts voting the maximum tax was increased to 65 per cent in 1930. Ninety per cent of all children in the state live in districts voting 18 mill taxes, he said.

"There was in 1929-30 a total of $766,829.23 distributed from the Equalizing fund to 403 consolidated districts in 67 counties in which 22 per cent of all the elementary school children and 44 per cent of all the high school children of the state attended school," the superintendent said.

Wouldn't This Make You Soar?

Don't be too harsh, folks, with pretty Doris Goldsworthy. She has this lofty air—usually she's not so uppish. Doris is merely trying out some new acrobatic turns with Betty Davey (who, does not seem a bit flighty) at Battersea park, in London. If Doris falls—well, it's her own fault, you know.

declared. "But it isn't altogether my fault. I simply haven't found anybody to sign on the dotted line with me. And I'm looking for somebody right now," which sally through the crowd into an uproar.

Cannon's Reply

Curtis Cannon, in rejoinder to Reed, said:

"Both Reed and Emory Thompson have a case of the old-fashioned belly-ach. Their charges against me are ridiculous. I have answered them time and again. Reed is running around with Arthur Gibson and Homer Pigg, who are managing his campaign."

"They have said neither of them wants to go to the legislature with me. But I don't care if you send them with me. I'll do all I can to help them. I'll show them where the state capital is, and I'll even get Joe Reed a seat close to the door in the back of the room so he can slip out often to ask Arthur and Homer how to vote."

Leo Robins advocated in his speech for representative, greater economy in state government. "We are practicing greater economy this year in the house," he said, "why not in the state government too?"

Robins went on to say that the Matineau highway act must be repealed at next year's session of the legislature, and that it deserves the support of all the people. He said, however, that he would ask for additional funds for the construction of local roads.

Luffel Gentry, 23, the youngest man in the representative's race, said he was being dubbed "the kid candidate," and that he would fight the campaign out on the basis.

Wednesday at Patmos

In the afternoon session at Patmos Wednesday, the candidates for the state senate were first to speak. The candidates, Carl Munn and Lawrence Mitchell, made brief announcements.

Those seeking the offices of county clerk and tax assessor followed in rapid succession, the candidates merely making their announcements and touching upon their qualifications, the only issue in this campaign being, as described by some, "the office" which they seek.

Next on the program for the afternoon were the candidates for sheriff, who spoke in the following order: George W. Schooley, Crit Stuart, Riley Leavelle, Jim Bearden, John L. Wilson and Robert Evans.

Mr. Schooley said in part, "I have been a citizen of Hempstead county for the past 33 years, have reared a large family of which I am proud and I now want to be your sheriff. I have never asked for a county office before and have never served as an officer, except soon after I was grown, as constable of Saline township. I promise to give the people service if elected as your sheriff."

Crit Stuart made an announcement in behalf of his candidacy and told of the qualifications which would enable him to discharge the duties of the office which he seeks.

Mr. Leavelle, referred, as in his speech at Shover Springs Tuesday, to the stand he has taken on the prohibition question. "When you cast your vote on August 12th, you vote for or against liquor he said." The speaker also said, "I expect to spend at least 60 per cent of the money allowed the sheriff's office in doing field work, and 40 per cent will be used in taking care of the office. I plan, instead of trying prisoners in Hempstead county, whom I know to have sufficient charges against them to be tried in Federal court, to take such prisoners direct to Texarkana, thus saving annually a sum of approximately $2,000 to the taxpayers of Hempstead county."

Bearden's Speech

Jim Bearden, the next speaker of the afternoon, said, "I am running on a law enforcement platform—the same platform on which I ran in 1924 and was elected. Ninety per cent of the people who supported me in that campaign are with me today," the speaker said. He briefly stated some of the evils which he said were directly caused by the use of liquor, adding, "I am not sponsoring a program for the enforcement of merely one or a few laws, but the strict enforcement of all laws." Mr. Bearden invited consideration of his record as a private citizen since 1927. "There is on record, in Washington, a solemn pledge that I made in 1927, and if there is one within sound of my voice who knows of one word of this pledge that has been broken or any other violation I have made, I invite you to make it known at once."

Wilson Speaks

John L. Wilson, who is a resident of Bodewad township, was applauded as he entered the speaker's stand. He briefly reviewed his life among the people of the Patmos community. "I have served the people approximately 33 years as a public servant, as a school teacher and as a public official," he said. Following this announcement Mr. Wilson took up his record as county judge and spoke at some length on the county agents, the roads, and the additional expense of the county that has to be met each year.

"Something has got to be done, I doubt if there will be enough money in the county general fund to pay the expense of the October term of circuit court. The county must either stop so much expense or raise the assessment," the speaker said. Many other phases of his record as county judge were defended by Mr. Wilson, who in closing said, "Let us again roll up the big majority Bodewad township has always given me, when you vote on August 12."

Hits Elks Dance
Robert Evans, final speaker in the race for sheriff, began by saying: "Some of the other candidates in this race have pledged to clean up this territory and that territory, but the first place that I will clean up is the town of Hope. Following the Elk's dance on the Fourth of July, an armload of empty bottles was picked up on the lawn of the First Christian church. Twenty pints of whiskey was stolen there that night. The officers were called to the scene but did not come. Mr. Evans reviewed his record as a constable and deputy sheriff of the county and also stated that he was the only ex-service man in the race for sheriff.

District Officers Speak

Steve Carrigan arrived on the ground about ten minutes before the speaking ended, from Prescott, where he had been attending Circuit court. Arrangements were made with the chairman of the meeting for Mr. Carrigan, Mr. Alford and Mr. Vessey to speak 15 minutes each.

Mr. Carrigan was the first speaker. "The office of prosecuting attorney is the most important office within the gift of the people. This office serves 130,000 people within the bounds of five counties, and comprises the eighth judicial district of Arkansas. I am running for a third term to the office which I now hold, because I feel that I have made a record in the past two terms that entitles me to the third term, which I ask. It takes a man of vast experience to meet across the table from the class of lawyers we have in southwest Arkansas. I have personally had over 100 murder cases, before I went in the prosecuting attorney's office. How many have my opponents had? One each. Does this qualify them to meet the daily consideration of the many cases coming before the attention of the prosecuting attorney? You have all heard the story of the babes in the woods. My opponents would be just like that story."

Mr. Alford, said, "I am the little red-headed boy from Clark county that Steve Carrigan has been talking about, I am the babe in the woods. Steve Carrigan is not true to his people, he is not true to himself. Instead of moving up, as he should, to the office of Governor or the United States senate, you find him at the prime of his intellectual life, mixed up in a dog-fight for the office of prosecuting attorney. Instead of moving up he has on his card, for plain democracy, what does this mean? Equal rights to all and special privilege to none. He is asking you folks to grant him a special privilege and give him another term in the office which he holds." Mr. Alford reviewed his qualifications and preparation in school to enable him to perform the duties of the office which he seeks.

Mr. Vessey, last speaker of the day, said "I am proud of the character of the people of Hempstead county. I believe this race should be run on the problems confronting the office instead of on a personal basis to which it seems to have fallen." Mr. Vessey spoke on his record as mayor of the city of Hope and pledged that if elected the office would be conducted on as big a plain as it lay in his power to do.

At the close of the speaking George Schooley thanked the crowd for the splendid attention and large attendance.

Relief From Curse of Constipation

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause." But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose. Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderly at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store. John S. Gibson Drug Co. Adv.

MOTHER TELLS WHAT KONJOLA DID FOR GIRL

Just Another Reason Why Konjola Is A Household Word in Tens of Thousands of Homes.

MRS. ANNA SCHINELMAN

Konjola is a medicine for the aged and the infant; for all the family. It contains no alcohol, no nerve-deadening drugs, no heart depressing chemicals. It needs no such ingredients. Read, now, the words of this happy mother, Mrs. Anna Schinelman, 7131 Vermont avenue, St. Louis, who says:

"My daughter Bernice, 13, was in a terribly run down condition. She had no desire to play, and school work was a burden. She had no appetite no ambition, and after meals complained of severe pains. She was under weight, and not a thing we tried helped her. But in three weeks after taking Konjola a wonderful change came over her. She gained six pounds; her appetite is good and she has no stomach pains nor headaches. She hardly seems like the same little girl, and is taking pleasure in her school work and is out playing every day. Konjola certainly brought happiness to both of us."

Don't get the idea that Konjola is "just another medicine." Konjola is new and different. A test will prove to you why Konjola is the most widely discussed and highly praised medicine in America.

Konjola is sold in Hope, Ark., at Briant's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section. Adv.
